LECTURED TO FIFTHWARD PARENTS

CHIEF BROWNING DELIVERED IN-TERESTING TALK YESTERDAY.

Many Are Unaware of Many Practices Indulged in by Their Children— Good Advice Given.

Chief of Police Thomas E. Browning delivered a very interesting lecture to the parents of the Fifth ward of the yesterday on the question of what to do with the boys The meeting house was well filled with arents and the lecture was prothose in attendance as one of the best the chief has yet given on instruction and help of the parents regarding the training and care of the Much good is coming through The officer calls the attention of the parents to many things that are being indulged in by their children of which they are unaware.

Chief Browning said in part: Ladies and Gentlemen.—It gives me great pleasure to address you this orning, and I do not know of any subject that would interest you more than a little advice that I might offer to you parents present regarding your

The good, virtuous and temperate self-will and association with good, rather than evil, and their home training has led them to seek that which would tend to unlift and bene-Bt them in all the walks of life. It boys and girls, it matters not under what circumstances they are brought into this world, are not kept the wrong direction. under proper influence and control, they can by becoming associated with persons that have nothing but which is evil and degrading to offer them soon fall from the path of virtue and become like their associates, debased and unfit to associate with respectable people, and they soon become so degraded that they are shunned by people that have regard for their own standing. And this condition falls on them before they realize it and they find themselves in a most deplorable condition.

We are told that mankind is pron to evil continually. This being the fact At is still more necessary for us to watch our boys and girls and see if the fault is ours. Ask yourselves the question: Have we done all in our power to make the home happy and a desirable place for our children The poor people, as a rule, have a better chance than the rich to keep in touch with their children, because they have not the means to let them go where they please and indulge in the luxuries and fashions of the world. I can see in every walk in life the rapid that people are going, and it is the situation. Temptation besets our children on every hand, some have greater strength than others to resist and bounding upon the outer boundary evil some natures have a hatred of the boundaries of the district to be talsebood they would consider the sider stealing most degrading, others have a horror of the drunkard, some consider the seducer equal to the murderer, and would not hestitate in denouncing the man that would steal the virtue of one of our sisters as worthy death. Yet some of these men that abhor these evils may be guilty of other weaknesses and would pluck out the mote from his brother's eye and forget the bean that is in his own. There are men who would make a Strong argument against crime and evil of all kind, yet if any member of his family should make a mis-step, in his wrath he opens the door, for-getting the teachings of the meek and lowly Master. He drives the erring away from that place that he should regard as sacred, the Home, the one place above all others that should offer him shelter, even though he be a sinner. He may be sorry for his rash act and would recall his wayward child but it is too late. Out in the cold goes the boy or girl and, as a rule, from bad to worse. Parents, whom shall we blame? Have you ever given this a thought? This man reminds me of the Pharasee that stood on the street corner and with eyes up-lifted thanked the good Lord that he was not like other men. Parents, cultivate patience, love and kindness, their confidence and trust them and they will soon learn to place confidence in you and will listen to your

There is another class of men that I must refer to, and that class makes a practice of destroying the home cirof leading the wife from the affection that she should have for her husband, destroying the happiness of the home and family, and this to satisfy filthy desires. Such men should find no place in our home. More deadly are they than the serpent that we would crush the life out without hesitation. Let us provide good literature and keep the mind

I thought I would write you and ask you to write to Supt. Jackson, School District No. 1, Butte, Box 1314, and see what can be done for me. Mr. Jackson told me that as soon as papa sent for me that arrangements could be made to get me out of this school. I have been away from home for five months. I will go to school when I get back to Ogden, and be a better boy. I have been in this school for four months, and have been treated fine. I learn more here than I did at a public school. Still I would rather be out so I could have my free-dom. A person soon gets tired of being shut up all the time. It would not be so bad if I could go over to town now and then Supt. Jackson has giv-en me everything that I need. He got me, a new suit of clothes, and I appreciate it. Chief, will you also write a letter to Mr. Gilligan, humane officer, the subject. Mr. Browning is being importuned to give these lectures in the various wards of the city for the to write to me, and I hope to receive a good letter from you. You always give me good advice, and I thank you for it. Write soon and give my

Miss Peterson has been offered a larger salary by the sister county board of education, and she has felt constrained to accept the position. Superintendent Eggerston stated last evening that it would not be an easy matter to duplicate the work done by Miss Peterson as primary supervisor of the Weber county schools, but that every possible effort would be made to find worthy successor during the school

Miss Peterson has been with the Weber county schools for a number of ears, during which time she has done much for the schools and has endeared herself to the teachers and students alike. She had charge of the county schools' exhibit at the Four-County Fair in Ogden last year, and the success of the exhibit made of the school work was largely due to her efforts and indefatigable work. She will leave the service of the Weber schools with the very best wishes of the teachers, students and the board of education, who have been associated with her in the educational work of the county.

She enters as primary supervisor in the Box Elder schools, but her work will be considerably extended, cause of the size of the county and the scattered condition of the school districts. It is said that in size Box Elder county is the Texas of Utah. Brigham City will be included in her field of labor.

Superintendent Eggertson states that promotion exercises for all the grades, except the eighth, will be held at the various school houses on Friday, May 21st, and that the eighth grade exercises will be given at the Ogden Tabernacle, June 5th. Mr. Eggertson desires to have all the grade promotion exercises made public and at the same date throughout the county. He also states that the exercises will be as nearly as possible the embodiment of simplicity and the parts that the students will be called upon to take will be a demonstration of the work done by the students during the

BACK OF THE RUNNING HORSES

The sermon at the Congregational church last night was preceded by a brief pulpit editorial, which undertook to tell what was "back of the horses." Mr. Elderkin's editorial was as fol-

"No one objects to a good honest contest for supremacy between well trained and well managed horses. Ogden ought to rejoice in its opportunity to further the interests of clean sport. This meet which is to be held here this week, we are told, will give Ogden the center of the sporting stage for a few days. The spotlight will be turned this way. Ogden is being boosted. Naturally such good fortune rejoices us. But in the midst of our exuberance it may be well to pause for a moment for the story which is back of these horses. And in the first place we are confronted with the fact that the sport isn't the supreme thing. These races are run for the sake of the books-that is, back of the horses is a huge gambling enterprise. Of course we are assured that the obnoxious ring will be out of sight. Yet the Ogden plunger will be operated wholly in the interest of the 'marks' in San Francis-co, Chicago and New York.

"One by one progressive states are taking steps not to suppress horse racing, but to suppress the pernicious

These bookmakers whom we are welcoming with open arms are the men California dubbed undesirable. Before the promoters brought their horses here they did not canvass the city to learn whether or not we were lovers of horses, but they did canvass the officials of the city to learn whether or not they could be interrupted in the operation of a gambling attachment. They were assured of ample protection. 'Forsooth! did they not know that Ogden was the fostering mother of protected gambling?'
"And so they are here. And inso far as they give us clean racing they ought to be encouraged. Spend your afternoons at the fair grounds if you can, but keep away from the ring. Save the money you itch to toss to these fellows and buy dry goods or straw-

Man lives in the desert or in the frozen north, but refuses to velop a skin like that of the lion or the bear. When he wants food and it is in a tree he builds a ladder. So then the work of evolution is conformity; the work of effort is control.

It's a Good Sound Common Sense Policy

To use medicines only of KNOWN COMPOSITION, and which contain neither alcohol nor habit-forming drugs. It is foolish—often dangerous to do otherwise. The most intelligent people, and many of the most successful, conscientious physicians, follow this judicious course of action. The leading medical authorities, of all schools of medicine, endorse the ingredients composing Dr. Pierce's medicines. These are plainly printed on wrappers and attested under oath. There's no secrecy; an open publicity, square-deal policy is followed by the makers.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

THE ONE REMEDY for women, the composition of which is so perfect and good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient, in plain English on its outside bottle-wrapper, and attest the correctness of the same under oath.

We have a profound desire to avoid all offense to the most delicate sensitiveness of modest women, for whom we entertain the most sincere respect and admiration. We shall not, therefore, particularize here concerning the symptoms and peculiar ailments incident to the sex for which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has for more than 40 years proven such a boon. We cannot, however, do a better service to the afflicted of the gentler sex than to refer them to Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a great family doctor book of 1000 pages, bound in cloth and given away gratis, or sent, post-paid, on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps—to cover cost of mailing only. All the delicate ailments and matters about which every woman, whether young or old, single or married, should know, but which their sense of delicacy makes them hesitate to ask even the family physician about, are made plain in this great book. "Break eggs," was the reply. "I've got a position in a cake and cracker factory. They have people in those concerns who do nothing but crack eggs. They begin at eight o'clock in the morning and keep it up till six at night. In that time, they tell me, a man who has become an expert can break 9,000 eggs, or an average of 1,000 an hour. And he doesn't smash them all at one clip, either. He tackles them singly and disposes of them in groups of five That is, in order to avoid any accident with over-ripe eggs, five of them are broken into a bowl and then added to the general stock."

More stress is being laid on the principle of ethical instruction in all its branches, and they seem to be yielding the contention, so long and so stubbornly maintained, that theology must be taught in the public schools. That morality in its broadest sense should be an important feature of instruction none has gainsaid, and that a sound moral basis will lead to a religious life is beginning to be conceded on all sides. #### SPECTATURS APPLAUDED PARADE OF RACERS

Citizens of Ogden yesterday afternoon at the fair grounds witnessed the greatest sight of thoroughbreds that ever paraded in Utah. Over fifty of the best horses at the track participated in the parade, many of them being mounted by jockeys in their racing colors, the remainder being led around the track by their respective grooms, If all the horses exercising boys, etc. at the track had taken part in the parade it would have been necessary for them to go double file and they would have filled the entire circle. The spectators were very much pleased with the spectacle, and showed their appreciation of Manager Murchestra and Tabernacle choir musical ray's effort to give them an opportuniy of seeing some excellent horseflesh by vociferously applauding.

After the parade 1 great many went to the different barns to get a view of the horses they had not seen in the parade, and went home with nothing but praise for the bluebloods

The cause of all skin diseases can be traced to some humor or acid in the blood; the cuticle is always healthy where the circulation is free from impurities. When the blood is infected with acrid or unhealthy matter it cannot perform its natural work of nourishing the skin, regulating its temperature and preserving its normal softness, pliability and healthfulness. Instead it irritates and inflames the delicate fibres and tissues around the pores and glands and produces some of the many forms of skin disease. The itching and stinging so often accompanying skin affections are produced by the deposit from the blood of the acrid humors with which it is filled, into the sensitive membranous flesh lying just beneath the outer covering, and surrounding the countless parks are processed that the countless parks are processed. This explains why and surrounding the countless nerves, pores and glands. This explains why scratching the outer skin affords no relief from the itching and burning. S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every character by purifying the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors or acids which are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acrid blood, and permanently cures every variety of skin affection. Local applications can only soothe; they never cure because they do not reach the blood. S.S.S. goes right into the circulation, reaches the trouble and cures it by removing the cause. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.
